b) Scientific Curriculum

c) Professional Curriculum

Densification of evaluation criteria:

1. The curricular analysis (AC) will be made considering the following parameters:

→ Academic Curriculum (CA) – considering the academic qualifications required in the following terms:

- I) with a final bachelor degree (or equivalent) grade: 10-13 points 12 points
- II) with a final bachelor degree (or equivalent) grade: 14-16 points 15 points
- III) with a final bachelor degree (or equivalent) grade: 17-20 points 18 points

→ Scientific Curriculum (CC) – weighing on a scale of 0-20 points, the candidate’s participation in congresses, seminars, research projects, number of published articles, awards and similar elements, provided that they are activities in the scientific area of the study cycle in question, in the following terms:

- I) Curriculum with very low relevance 10 points
- II) Curriculum with low relevance 12 points
- III) Relevant curriculum 14 points
- IV) Highly relevant curriculum 16 points
- V) Exceptionally relevant curriculum 18 points

→ Professional Curriculum (CP) – considering, on a scale of 0 to 20 points, the duration and nature of the professional functions performed, provided that they are held by an employment contract or in an independent work regime, in the scientific area of the study cycle in question, in the following terms:

- I) Curriculum with very low relevance 10 points
- II) Curriculum with low relevance 12 points
- III) Relevant curriculum 14 points
- IV) Highly relevant curriculum 16 points
- V) Exceptionally relevant curriculum 18 points

2. In addition to the curricular assessment, a possible individual interview (EI) may be carried out whenever the assessment of the academic, scientific, and professional curriculum is not sufficiently distinctive from the ranking of the different candidates, considering for this purpose the following skills and abilities:

- I) Ability to express oneself and critically reflect
- II) Motivation to attend the Postgraduate studies

The classification of each candidate will result from the arithmetic mean of the scores assigned on a scale of 0 to 20 points for each of the two appreciation factors I) and II).

3. The final classification will be scored by applying the following formula, on a scale from 0 to 20 points: $AC = (CA \cdot X + CC + CP) / 3$.

Being:

AC = Curricular analysis
 CA = Academic Curriculum
 CC = Scientific Curriculum
 CP = Professional Curriculum

X's weighting factor assumes one of the following:

Sendo que:

AC = Apreciação curricular
 CA = Currículo Académico
 CC = Currículo Científico
 CP = Currículo Profissional

O fator de ponderação X assume um dos seguintes valores:

X = 1.3 for candidates with a degree in the areas of Comics, Illustration, Design and Fine Arts
 X = 1.0 for candidates with a degree in other areas considered suitable

4. If it is necessary to conduct an individual interview (EI), the final classification formula is adapted, in the following terms: $CF = (AC+EI)/2$, where:

CF = Final classification
 AC = Curricular analysis (Academic + scientific + professional curriculum)
 EI = Individual interview

5. The scores resulting from the calculation of the averages will be expressed up to the hundredths, by rounding, in each selection method and also in the final classification, by defect or by excess, depending on whether the value of the thousandths is less than or greater than or equal to five.
